2022 IMPACT REPORT

Our Mission: To increase the organized capacity for people to care for one another.

Our Vision: Columbia County will have thriving communities with opportunities for a better life for all. United Way will work for the common good by focusing on the basic building blocks of health, education and financial stability for everyone.

BY THE NUMBERS...

In 2022 we brought together 522 donors from 13 workplaces throughout Columbia County and beyond to raise more than 122,890 dollars which combined with 80,500 dollars to grant and other funding made for a total of 203,390 dollars raised to give our neighbors an equal chance at a bright future!

Together, along with 8 funded partner agencies and in collaboration with more than 23 additional organizations we helped 1,852 early learners grow in key literacy and academic skills 346 people in need enjoy a hot meal and 46 individuals secure or obtain stable housing.

FROM THE DIRECTOR

It's been a tough few years. Too many people are struggling – paying the weekly grocery store bill, making up for the learning lost during pandemic school interruptions, recovering from disasters. Columbia County has been fractured by partisan politics and pandemic fueled isolation. But we know individuals can change the world. They don't need to be powerful CEOs or elected officials. They don't even need to be adults! Just think about Malala Yousafzai and Greta Thunberg, and the change they've made in the world through their advocacy for education for girls, and for climate change. That's United Way's sweet spot. Our superpower is bringing people together to make positive, lasting change. For example, United Way of Columbia County this year stepped up to serve nearly 1 in 5 Columbia County residents access healthy food, engage in learning, or take steps toward financial self-sufficiency.

With our partners, experts, community leaders and residents, United Way looks at the toughest problems, and is thoughtful about local solutions that work best in our community. United Way of Columbia County makes it easy for you to take meaningful action that makes a difference. That can be volunteering for a program that helps struggling kids shift the odds, like the Senior Volunteer Program-Book Nook. Or speaking up for more support for single parents who struggle to make ends meet, despite being employed full-time. Or investing in solutions that are showing results, such as the summer activity program—connecting families to resources such as food, educational supports, and affordable health care in the summer months. And we are seeing positive results. Here in Columbia County, over the last year, United Way and the donors, volunteers and advocates who've joined us have made a difference. Consider:

- 1,350 Columbia County children received high-quality, age-appropriate, monthly books, through Dolly Parton's Imagination Library Program.
- 172 Columbia County Seniors (age 55+) have logged more than 4,211 volunteer hours at local social service sites including local schools, food pantries, the Columbia County Courthouse, and senior centers in 2022.
- 32 households obtained or maintained permanent, safe shelter, through Emergency Food and Shelter Program funding.

Positive change is happening. But it doesn't "just happen." Change is created together. And we're in it together. We want Columbia County to be a resilient, equitable community that offers opportunities for everyone to thrive. We can make it happen, together. People like you are the ones who make change happen. Start today. Join us. Donate at www.unitedwayofcolumbiacounty.com.

KINDERGARTEN READINESS

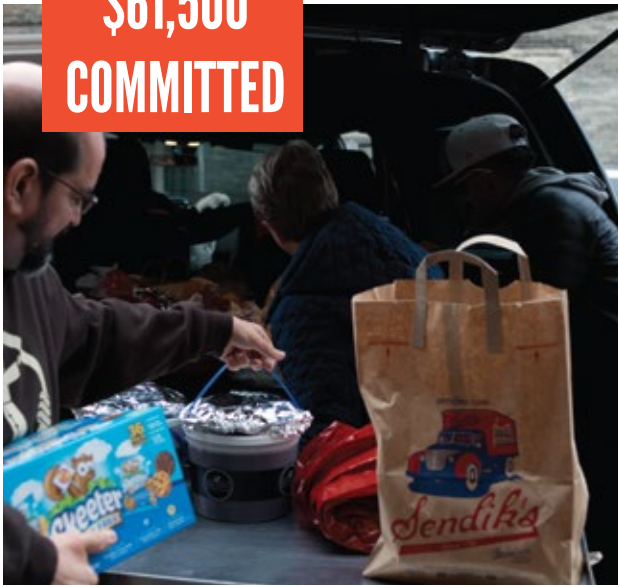

In 2022, United Way of Columbia County expanded Kindergarten Readiness Initiatives, in partnership with Northwest Regional ESD, with the goal that all Columbia County 5-year olds will be prepared to enter Kindergarten with pre-academic skills. Young learners who have skills, such as social-emotional regulation, exposure to literacy, and high vocabulary, are set up to succeed in school and beyond.

To support young learners, United Way of Columbia County provides books through the Dolly Parton's Imagination Library Program and the Senior Volunteer: Book Nook. United Way of Columbia County developed and distributed more than 500 early learning calendars, to support families learn at home. In addition, three Preschool Navigators have been hired to help connect young families to a variety of early learning services. When families have a trusted peer that they can call for help navigating systems, they are likely to access social services. To connect with a local Preschool Navigator or partner on early education initiatives email dpil@unitedwayofcolumbiacounty.com.

PARTNER AGENCIES

Partnering with local nonprofits allows United Way of Columbia County to understand the landscape of distress in our community. This means your donation supports the greatest local needs, not necessarily just one cause. Sometimes you hear about the work a nonprofit does, but you have questions about how well they are run. UWCC eliminates that concern by ensuring Partner Agencies are self-sustaining, have successful programming, a sound budget and specific reasons for which they are requesting money--every year. Thank you for your donations to support our 2022 Member Agencies:

- Turning Point
- Hope of Rainier
- Vernonia Cares
- Community Action Team
- Columbia Pacific Food Bank
- Amani Center
- SAFE of Columbia County
- Youth Era

October Volunteer of the month, Joan B, was recognized by United Way of Columbia County and Turning Point Community Center for her exceptional commitment to year-round service, feeding the community of Clatskanie.

The Amani Center team used its 2022 United Way of Columbia County Allocation to ensure that children of suspected child abuse and neglect were connected to resources to begin healing.

THANK YOU!

We are so inspired and humbled by each of our volunteers, donors, partners, supporters, and everyday heroes! You are the reason that this work continues each day. You are the reason we can ensure that Columbia County has a bright future.
